Action of Alabama Democrats Favoring Primaries Talked of by Politicians.

At Frankfort the advocates of a state primary in Kentucky next year to select the Democratic nominees from governor to commissioner of agriculture are much gratified at the action of the executive committee of the party in Alabama, taken in determining to cast aside the ancient custom of nominating a state ticket by convention and substituting therefor a primary election.

For some time the dispatches of the Democrats of Alabama have been discussing the matter, and will adopt the South Carolina plan which has worked with satisfaction for several years. This matter was thoroughly discussed in the press of the state of Alabama. Ninety percent of the newspapers of the state demanded it as the fairest method of nominating candidates, and in a short time it became exceedingly unpopular for a politician to oppose it. The question aroused more public interest in Alabama than anything before the party leaders for years. Seeing the people were more anxious for the nomination of candidates by a method closer to them than the convention method was admitted to be. Prominent in the movement for the primary method was Gov. Oates, the only prospective candidate for the United States Senate against Senator Petrus. Like Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, in a recent letter to the Hon. James M. Richardson, of Glasgow, Governor Oates expressed the desire to live to see the day, that not only candidates for State offices, but candidates for United States Senator as well will be nominated and elected by direct vote of the people whom they represent.

A Good Roads Convention.
A Good Roads Convention has been called to meet in Lexington August 11 and 12. It is very desirable that the County Judge of every county and the Mayor of every city in the State lend their influence to make this convention a lasting benefit to the Commonwealth and to give an added impetus to the good roads movement. The Chamber of Commerce, the Elks and the city and county officials of Lexington and Fayette county will do their full share toward making the convention a success. It has been arranged that three peaks near the city limits and at least one or two streets in the city will in the course of construction during the time of the convention for the especial benefit of the delegates.

Lead and Zinc.

For many years it has been known that the lands lying between Becknerville and Athens on Athens' Boone's Creek and extending to the Kentucky river were rich in traces of lead ore and other minerals. The Boone's Creek Mining Company, composed of the Messrs. Chenuault, of Richmond, and several capitalists of Louisville, was organized, and arrangements made with the State Geologist to have a thorough test. Six hundred acres of land were leased from Messrs. John Rogers and Lee Smith, and various test shafts were tried. The analysis of the ores obtained were so rich in lead and zinc, with traces of silver, that the members of the company were greatly elated, and they think that they have one of the most valuable properties of the kind in the State. Leases on other lands have been obtained, under charge of Capt. Deveraux, of Richmond, who is an old and experienced miner. A large shaft will be sunk, and a cruiser and smelter erected, and the development of the property will be pushed with a large force.—Winchester Democrat.

The County Attorneys.

The County Attorneys' association in session at Estill Springs elected the following officers: Sam T. Molloy, of Kuttawa, president; Sam Tracey, of Covington, vice-president; La Vega Clements, of Owenton, treasurer; W. T. Davis, of Pinellas, secretary.

Japan will fight unless Russia evacuates Manchuria.

True Men.

The finest type of manhood is never overwhelmed or entirely dismayed, no matter what comes. A man of this best type may see his property swept away from him, his home destroyed, his ambitions thwarted, his plans defeated, but his spirit remains undaunted, his courage, his trust, and his self-confidence undiminished. His success is beyond the reach of man, accident of fire, of panic, or of temporary disaster, the foundation of his success is laid upon the eternal rock of truth, of justice, of probity, of high thinking, and of square dealing, and no floods or misfortunes or commercial devasions can reach him. They do not touch the real man, for his investments are in himself. It is only the more shallow minds, men without reserve of character, without other resources than money or property, who go down in financial failure. The man who has learned to live in himself, and not in his property; who does not put his trust in riches, but in principle, does not lose his greatest possession when he loses his money.

Power to Fix Rates.

By the new Constitution of the State of Virginia, which went into effect Thursday, there will be in the place of the single Railroad Commissioner a Corporation Commission. The body is to be composed of three members, to be named by the Governor, and confirmed by the General Assembly. The commission is given power to fix rates for all railroads and telephone companies. The only appeal permitted from its decisions is to the State Supreme Court. The law forbids every State, city or county official to accept free transportation.

Texas Biggest Farms and Farms in Tennessee.

By the Census Bureau, the value of farm lands and farm property in Texas amounted to $962,436,273. There were 352,190 farms in the State, an area of 125,807,017 acres. The average size of Texas farms is 353 acres, but only a little more than 15 per cent of the land is improved. The largest farm embraces 450,000 acres. The average size of the live stock farm is 2,115 acres and of the cotton farm 95 acres.

Census Bureau places the number of farms in Tennessee at 224,628, of an average size of 100 acres. Seventy-five per cent of the acreage of the State is devoted to farming. The farm lands, with their improvements, are valued at $266,150,150. The value of farm products for 1899 is $106,163,640. Fifteen per cent of the farmers of the State are negroes.

Military Encampment at Mammoth Cave.

As Commander-in-Chief of the State Militia, Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, on July 7, issued an order designating Mammoth Cave as the place where the State Guard soldiers will go into camp for military instruction from July 30, to August 18. The Second regiment, K. S. G., with such unassigned companies as may be attached thereto, will go into camp on July 30, and remain until August 8, inclusive, and the Third regiment, K. S. G., with such unassigned companies as may be attached thereto, will go into camp on the 9th day of August, and remain until the 15th.

The battery of artillery will camp the 4th day of August and remain until the 13th, inclusive.

When Lord Kitchener, with his staff, including Gen. Warren and Ian Hamilton arrived Saturday morning at Southampton, they were given an enthusiastic welcome. At London, the Prince of Wales, Lord Roberts and a host of nobles received Lord Kitchener. London gave him one of the greatest ovations ever accorded a man. After a luncheon at St. James' Palace, at which the Prince of Wales presided, Lord Kitchener was taken to Buckingham Palace, where he was received by the King and Queen.

Detective John Sheridan, of New York, was killed by three men whom he attempted to arrest.

Did He Say It?

They laid the Kentucky gentleman on the operating table. His revolver was in his strong right hand. "Boys," he said to his attendants, "I know this is going to be a difficult operation. Let me tell you something." and he tapped on his revolver. "If we have to go I'll certainly want company." An' if you make way with me while I'm under the influence of your darned opiates, I've got six sons at home who would be only too delighted to show you what they think of your lack of skill, in case it does lack. And they're prepared to follow you around from King's bridge to Kingdom come until they even offer things for the loss of their old dad. That's all cut away." Perhaps it is unnecessary to add that the operation was completely successful.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.
The E. S. Donahue sale of Scotch Shorthorn cattle at Des Moines, Iowa, 99 head brought $76,960. The highest was a heifer, Butterby 11, by Wildwood, for $1,700. Several brought more than $1,000.

Jas. F. Summers and C. P. Foster delivered their crop of new wheat to W. S. Fast at 75 cents per bushel.

A few other crops have also been bought at 75 cts., but many of the farmers are anticipating a rise, and are slow to sell yet, some thinking that the price will go to dollar before fall.—Flemingsburg Gazette.

Cattle men of Fleming county are holding good feeders at $5.50 per hundred.

Wheat buyers are paying eighty cents for the new crop in Barren county.

The wheat crop in Ohio is breaking all records in that State. One farmer threshed 2,200 bushels from forty acres, and the average yield in the wheat belt will be forty bushels per acre.

Do Well Your Part.

While God never meant that any life should be useless and idle, he evidently intended that many of us should do our part without attracting the public eye. There are voices that can not make themselves heard beyond a very small radius, however much the owner may otherwise desire. There are peculiar temptations that attend us while we are in the public eye. We are so likely to feel the unimportance of our work that we will slight it. The temptation to omit small service is always greater than that which comes when acts of heroism are to be performed. It is often hard for the loyal disciple to live his quiet life quietly. He can not do it if he fails to remember that God's eye is upon him that God will reward.

Automobile Races at the Lexington Elks' Fair.

Automobile races are to be made a dialy feature at the Lexington Elks' Fair, Aug. 11 to 14, inclusive. Col. Fred Farnsworth, Indianapolis champion, and Jack Graham, the Chicago distance annihilator, have been secured for several exciting speed contests and they will try for the championship during the fair, for a large purse. The De Kreko Roman Carnival and Exposition Company, a World's Fair attraction, has been secured to supplement the old-time midway feature and will be one grand, gorgeous European spectacle in an arena which accommodates 3,000 spectators. This Company, which was organized at St. Louis especially for the Louisville Purchase Exposition, travels by its own special train of twelve cars, carries 212 people, 26 horses, 41 sets of scenery and three military bands. Nothing exactly like it has ever been seen in these parts before, it is said, and those who attend the Lexington Elks' Fair will certainly have an opportunity of seeing something entirely new in the amusement line.

Phinney's famous Chicago World's Fair Band will give daily concerts morning, afternoon and night during the fair. This big band carries a car load of special effects.

Heaven's demand for honor to parents not only finds place in the Old Testament, but in the New. The sacredness of the home, and the obligations of the home life, are never lost sight of in the Scriptures. The young to-day have need to fear that their "independence" may lead them to ruin. God never at the beginning, and all men now recognize, that honor from child to parent, and indeed from all youth to all age, is basic in character-forming.

The striking freight handlers in Chicago have voted to return to work.

VERY STALE.

Placing the Democratic mass meeting of last Saturday alongside with those of recent dates it would appear that the better element is at last in the saddle. The entire time of assembling, stating of call, making permanent organization, offering resolutions, adopting of same and adjourning, requiring a few minutes. Really with a small relief came expressions of disappointment.

LOOK OUT.

This is a busy week. The city will be full of people day and night and we may expect some of all kinds. It would not be out of place to suggest to our housekeepers to keep their doors well bolted at night and their means of defense close at hand. The police will do all they can, to keep the intruders at bay, but they cannot be at all places at the same time. They may be aided by the free use of the telephone.

JUDGE HAZELRIGG

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

A petition is being signed by Democrats at Frankfort calling on former justice Hazelrigg to accept the party nomination for County Representative in the General Assembly. Though residing at Frankfort for ten years past Judge Hazelrigg has exercised his citizenship at his old home in Montgomery county. It is said he has signed a willingness to represent Franklin county and lead its fight for an appropriation for a new State Capitol if he is tendered the nomination without opposition. He could become a citizen of the county before the 1903 election. We don't suppose Judge Hazelrigg will say goodbye to the people who have made him and who are ever ready to do him honor, in order to lend himself to a task selfish largely to Franklin county. Our broadest and biggest men should represent Kentucky in her legislative halls and if he is to go from any point Montgomery stand ready to confer the honor.

WELCOME.

We, on the part of our people extend a hearty welcome to all who may visit our city this week. We are going to be at our best; we are going to be old time Kentuckians. The half of what we have is yours to the crust. We have on our go-to-meeting clothes, looking our best in decorations we can afford. We want you to see us. Then we want you to enjoy what we have. Come dine and lunch with us, enjoying the good fair, the fine music, the artistic exhibition in the hotel hall the fine shows of stock, the parades of the orders, the float processions representing our various lines of business and the wonders of the Midway. Come, thrice welcome, the city is yours if you behave yourselves, if not, then you are ours.

WERE THEY SINCERE.

During the term of the last legislature it was given out that Rev. B. F. Hungerford, of Shelby county, would be chaplain of the Frankfort prison. The people of Kentucky remember the pledge, if I pledge it was, and awaited the time when the Prison Commissioner would formerly elect Rev. Hungerford. We are disappointed. The party is disappointed.

Oil and Gas.

Mr. Samuel Robinson, President of the Mt. Sterling Oil and Gas Company was in the city last week and was seen by the ADVOCATE News Gatherer. The most enthusiastic man, free from excitement is Mr. Robinson. "What have you in your field?" asked the eager newsman. "Everything valuable," he said. "We have plenty of oil, of high quality, and gas, with over 100 barrels capacity is about full and we must have another tank or construct a pipe line." What is that? Is oil worth Mr. Robinson? That's the question, I suppose in its crude state anywhere from $2.00 up per barrel. If $2.00, the tank's contents would bring $112,000, it may bring double this amount. "I wish you could find gas," said the reporter, "Gas! we have it with a better pressure than the Indians fields." We have been using gas for one fifteen horse power and on our twenty-five gas engine, for fuel for a fifty horse power boiler, and another of twenty five horse power; this supply comes from one well, and there is no decreasing of pressure. We will continue this test for three or more months and if it proves as we think, it will be inexhaustible. We will then form a company and pipe to Mt. Sterling, Winchester, Richmond, Paris, Lexington and other large gas consuming points. In addition to this, which is strictly the Randolph district, we have organized another company called The South Bend Oil Company, with a capital of $200,000. This company owns lands in nine districts of the State. The leases contain 20,000 acres of territory in Montgomery, Bath, (Ragland fields), Menefee, Rockcastle, Clarke, Powell, Morgan and Johnson counties. Of the $200,000 stock, $90,000 has been put on the market at 25¢ per share, each share having a par value of $100 each. In this company are some of the leading men of the original Ragland Company and the new holdings as high as in the old company. It has some good wells in both Bath and Montgomery and is hastening to explore other territory. With oil fields in successful operation here, gas giving cheap fuel, an electrical line connecting them, a new business will possess us.

DEMOCRATIC MASS CONVENTION.

At the courthouse Saturday afternoon the interferred of Montgomery politics assembled to express their choice of a candidate for Congress as between Amos Davis, of Morgan, F. A. Hopkins, of Clay, and W. W. White, of Estill, and Wilson of Pike, and that the way had been made clear by an agreement between candidates and county party leaders. The meeting was called to order by Chairman of District Committee R. A. Chiles and object stated, whereupon a permanent organization was effected by the election of Hon. H. L. Jones, Chairman, Squire Turner, editor of the Sentinel-Democrat and J. W. Hedden, editor of the Advocate. The following resolution was presented by Hon. W. W. White and carried without opposition. The meeting adjourned without giving an opportunity for any kind of debate.

At a mass convention of the Democracy of Montgomery county, Ky., held at the court house in the town of Mt. Sterling Ky., on Saturday, the 19th day of July, 1902, at 1 o'clock pursuant to a call of the Chairman, said convention being called to order by R. A. Chiles, Chairman of the county. On motion Henry L. Jones was chosen Chairman of the delegation and on motion J. W. Hedden and Squire Turner were elected substitutes. Thereupon the following resolution was offered by W. W. White and the vote being taken upon the adoption of same, it was carried. Said motion is as follows:

Resolved—That R. A. Chiles, H. R. Prewitt and A. W. Young are selected as delegates to attend the Democratic District convention to be held at West Liberty, Ky., on July 24th, 1902, said delegates to cast the vote of Montgomery county, J. W. White, for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th Congressional District, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination. And upon all questions that may arise in said convention to vote as a unit, and thereupon on motion said convention adjourned. H. L. JONES, Chairman. J. W. HEDDEN, SQUIRE TURNER, Secretaries.

GOES TO WINCHESTER.

Hon. Floyd Byrd, of Campbell, who has been a member of the Legislature, has been elected to the judiciary. He has been a commanding two story frame dwelling house on the lot he recently purchased in Winchester near the Female college, and will remove his family to their new home in the Blue Grass City to reside. Mr. Byrd wishes to give his children the benefit of superior school advantages.

INJECTION.

A contest for the office of chief of police of Lexington is now at the stage of nomination. The parties to the contest are J. W. Marshal on one side against Ragan and Duncan. The lower court at Lexington granted to Marshal an injunction restraining Ragan from acting as chief.

The case was taken to the Appellate Court. By agreement it was to be considered by Judge Ed O'Rear, who is now visiting in this city. On Friday Messrs. George C. Webb and George Hunt for Marshal and John Shelly and Henry Duncan, Jr., for Ragan, came to this city to argue the case and submit briefs before Judge O'Rear.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh; which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

Mr. Tom Harper while picking blackberries was bitten by a copperhead snake on Tuesday.

Wm. Hardin while harvesting, saw a copperhead snake. He intentionally picked it up by the tail. The snake did not like such familiarity, so he retaliated taking hold of Mr. Hardin's tail.

We heard something said about Mr. Clark and his friend swindled the bank and also that Mr. Clark's enroute from Chicago to county and while handcuffed coped from Mr. Crooks. How would it do next time to shackle his feet or chain him to the officer.

YALE.

We reached Yale on late train. The new hotel belonging to the company is now managed by Mrs. Richard Haag.

Additional machinery is being placed in the already large manufacturing plant of E. W. Strack. Much work is done by this enterprising man and his large force.

We went to prayer meeting. The attendance was 21.

J. W. Howerton died July 5, aged 55 years. For 40 years she was a follower of the Christ. The burial was at Old Union in Bourbon country.

The finder of our umbrella will please leave it with J. E. Greene, who will return it to the owner.

Before dinner we walked across the hill to Ragland about one and one half mile.

The oil from more than twenty wells is now being pumped into the 55,000 barrel tank. Unless a pipe line is soon put in to C. O. or other tanks will be taken the pumping will have to cease.

The pumping is done from a central station. A small iron rod suspended from posts connects this station with the pump at each well although some of the wells are more than a half mile distant.

Natural gas is used in running the machinery. We did not learn the daily yield of gas from the well, but it is in excess of what is needed. The drilling of wells continues and most of them are producers.

CAVE RUN.

A postoffice has been established at Ragland station. Its name is Cave Run. There was already in the State a postoffice named Ragland, so that named could not be used.

Guests who stop at the new hotel at Yale, or with "Uncle Tom" Ragland at Cave Run, will find lodgings have been advanced to $1.50 to $2 per day. Such houses compare favorably in price with good hotels in Lexington, Cincinnati, or Louisville.

Gen. Smith Retired.

GALVESTON'S SEA-WALL*Southern City Making Effective Protection Against Future Tidal Waves

When the city of Galveston, Tex., shall have finished its projected three mile sea wall it will have a barrier of cement and steel along the ocean from five feet thick at the top and 16 feet at the bottom, a safeguard of stone which will rise some 17 feet above mean low water, or a foot and a third above the highest water of the flood of 1900. This wall will rest upon piles and be protected from undermining by shell filling and riprap. The foundations will be laid a little back from the usual high-water line, and about three feet above mean low tide. A second and quite as important a feature of the project is the filling in of the land back of the wall for a stretch of some 200 feet. Thirty-five feet of this made level nears the wall will be laid with brick, so as to provide a walkway, if the top of the wall be included, of nine feet in width. Next to the driveway is the bay side of the filling will be a strip of land 15 feet wide, planted with Bermuda grass. There are large possibilities of artistic development along the wall as thus planned, and in their present temper the citizens of Galveston seem to be intent upon realizing these possibilities to the full.—Mobile Register.

Representative Flood, of Virginia, has a farmer constituency who combines a sense of humor with a thorough knowledge of the Bible. This farmer had a cow run down and out in two by a railroad train as the animal was wandering home at dusk. His wife was away at the time and he wrote her this note:

"Cow collided with train. See Genesis, xv, 17."

When his wife turned with some curiosity to the chapter and verse she read as follows:

"And it came to pass that when the sun went down and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace and a burning lamp passed between them two pieces."

SETTLING A BORE.

The Young Men Did It with Great Ingenuity and Dispatch.

On a train were a delicate-appearing young woman and an intelligent-looking young man, evidently husband and wife. Unconsciously in front of them sat the man to be found in every train who would die if not permitted to hear the sound of his own voice at all times and in all places. The young lady had a troublesome enough a fit which seemed to greatly distress the young man in front of her. At last he turned to the woman and addressed her thus:

"The gal's got a bad enough fit."

"Yes?"

"We're going to get out."

"She hasn't drunk anything for more than 20 years. She sang a song well in 1888. I don't know what kind of liquid tea put into the luggage-case for her use between Cincinnati and London."

A pause.

"Lungs?"

"No, lungs."

"Fit?"

"Simpsons, I say. That is purely a human cough, as you will notice, if you watch her closely. Wait till she coughs again."

"Ain't the dragoon a little strong from that widow?"

"No, she hasn't had it."

"Wife?"

"Wife? Because it takes 15,000 pounds of air to make her a regular breath. We have a patent breath indicator which we use at home. It gives us 15,000 new uses of valuable laundry."

"But you say she was yourself?"

"No, I didn't say anything of the sort. She is one of those new-fangled internal machines that I'm adding up to now to allow me to Westminster Abbey. The only trouble is that I'm subject to fits and when I get one I break things up terribly."

"What things then?"

"Talking. Why, it was only yesterday that I had killed two men, a woman, and a pair of twins before I could get under control. I feel funny in my head now."

"I think I'll go into a smoking carriage," said the boy, sitting down as they pulled up at a station. "I don't feel very well myself."

"Don't hurry away," chimed the young man, as a sister ran through the compartment—London, Tex.—Bra.

A STRANGE POWER.

Showed by a Colored Boy in the State of Ohio.

John Porter Kelley, an Akron colored boy, 13 years of age, astonished the physicians and nurses during his stay at the Huron street hospital, says the Cincinnati Inquirer, by a phenomenal development of sense perception through the touch of his hands. The boy has been blind several years. He can identify an article after he has once handled it by merely touching its edges. He can tell the circumference of money in this manner. His nurses provided him with a number of playthings, among them two tops, exactly alike. He called them "Tom and Jerry," and could tell which was Tom and which was Jerry as his lips came into contact with them, although nobody else could tell them apart.

Another interesting family possessed by this strange boy is a sense of perception through the hands. He told who his names were by placing his hands over their heads. Physicians were puzzled over the boy's strange power of identification, through his lips. They have never known of a similar case.

DR. TALMAGE'S STORY.

Showed How Many Angels Were Separated on the Point of a Needle.

The late Dr. Talmage was on one occasion in the company of some theological students. They fresh from the study of church history, were laughing together over the old schoolastic question: "How many angels are separated on the point of a needle?" They were surprised when Dr. Talmage turned to them and said: "Well, how many do you think?" As no one answered he went on with decision: "Well, I'll tell you—five." And he justified his answer with the following story: One very stormy night he was coming home late and noticed a light in the window of a room where he knew a poor woman lived whose husband was at sea. He wondered what kept her up so late, and he went to see. He found her hard at work sewing by her lamp, while her five tiny children were sound asleep beside her. "There," said Dr. Talmage, "was a needle supporting five angels."

Newport, Ky., July 22.—A man, an engineer, an accomplished and hand-some young man, died last evening after nearly seven hours of agonizing suffering at the home of his mother. Fourth street near Overton. The only trouble is that I'm subject to fits and when I get one I break things up terribly."

Kentucky State News Items.*ANOTHER BIG FEUD.

One Killed and One Wounded in the First Encounter.

Whiteburg, Ky., ——The United States mail carrier arriving here from Elkhorn creek ten miles from here in the Eastern part of Letcher county, tells of another shooting there in which one man was killed outright and one severely wounded.

For several years there has been a difference growing between George Potter, aged 31, a notorious mountain tough, and Bob and John Killens, near neighbors. For six months they have been engaged in a bitter feud which had been expected momentously. A month ago Potter and his brother attempted to assassinate the Killens, but failed, after firing six shots. They never met again until Sunday afternoon, when the clash followed. They met at a wretched saloon at the head of the town. George Potter, the most fearless man in the lot, opened fire on the Killens. William Potter followed, a close second. All their bullets went wide of the mark. The Killens, burning with bitter hatred, returned the fire, and deadly volleys were exchanged for several minutes. When the smoke moved away George Potter, the Elkhorn creek terror for many years, lay dead on the ground, while Bob Killens was severely wounded.

LORD SALISBURY.

Distinguished Statesman Resigns Office of Prime Minister of Great Britain.

HON. A. J. BALFOUR HIS SUCCESSOR

The liveliest speculation is Rife in London as to the Personnel of the New Cabinet.

The Main Reason of Lord Salisbury's Withdrawal is a Desire For a Quiet Life, as He Is Well Advanced in Years.

London, ——The fact of the resignation of the premier of Great Britain by Lord Salisbury was officially given yesterday evening.

The resignation laid down the responsibility of his office, July 11. Within 24 hours his majesty elevated Mr. A. J. Balfour, the government's chief representative in the house of commons, to the position of premier.

While it was expected in official circles that the retirement of Salisbury's retirement would be co-incident with the coronation of King Edward, it was scarcely looked for prior to that event. Consequently about the only news of interest was the news spread through London concerning the date, rather than the fact, of the resignation.

The real interest was not so much in reference to Lord Salisbury's withdrawal as it was in the apportioning of his successor.

The question now is as to the personnel of the new cabinet.

The most discussed feature of the pending changes is the position of Mr. Chamberlain (the colonial secretary) who, in many quarters, has been regarded as the most promising candidate for the premiership.

A reporter learns that prior to the acceptance of his new office, Mr. Balfour first had an interview with Mr. Chamberlain and then consulted with his other friends.

It is believed that the future relative positions of Messrs. Balfour and Chamberlain will be satisfactory to both.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. ## ALMOND CULTURE.

The Story of Its Successful Introduction in California.

In the old Roman days nuts were not only part of every dessert, but they served also as playthings for children. From this latter use a custom was evolved in the Roman marriage ceremony. The bridegroom, as he led his bride to her future home, threw nuts to the gaping crowd, to symbolize that he thus cast aside all his boyish sports. From these Romans has descended to us the thought that nuts signify pleasure; and most of us to-day consider them the trifles that give excuse for remaining at the table when wit takes its ariest flights. As a people we spend a large sum annually for nuts, as mere delicacies, either in their original form or disguised by the confectioner's skill. On the other hand, an increasingly large number of our citizens are adopting the nut as a substantial portion of the meal, as a substitute, in part or in whole, for flesh foods.

With the increased consumption of nuts, attention has been turned to their production. The almond, after all that it has been experienced with in various parts of the Union, is used to be asserted that the almond would thrive wherever the peach did, nearly 50 years ago, the commissioners of patents obtained a quantity of almond seedlings and buds from abroad and distributed them throughout the southern and middle states. The trees grew and blossomed profusely, but did not fruit. The experiment was repeated in California, with almost an equal failure, and it was beginning to be accepted as a fact that almonds could not be raised in the United States. Then Mr. A. T. Hatch, who owned a ranch near Sulis, Cal., threw his energy into the industry, says Country Life in America. He found that seedlings produced in California must fruits when the imported ones failed; and that not only did the nuts differ from the foreign almond, but they varied according to the locality in which the seedling was raised. From among 192 varieties that he created four were chosen to be developed further as staple products. By forming partnerships with a number of farmers, he was able to test the effect of different climatic conditions. It was learned that almonds mature in a warm climate, dry in summer. The moisture they can have in growing time the almond will not, but they require dryness when ripening. These requirements exclude the nut culture of parts of California where the trees were first started. Although California has had more success with the almond than has any other state, Arizona, New Mexico, and Texas, also, have localities with climate adapted to this nut, and have turned its culture to a small extent. The almond industry in the United States is yet in its infancy, and, if it continues to grow as it has in the past, it may hope not only to cease importations, but, within the first quarter of the century, to begin exports, both in its natural state and in all the oils, "health foods," and cosmetics that art is capable of evolving.

HEDEHOG AND VIPER.

A peculiar duel in which the snake was disastrously defeated.

A resident of Versailles, Mo., gulgul, sends to Nature a vivid account of a duel he saw between a hedgehog and a viper. The two enemies knew very well at first sight who was who, and eyed each other as if they knew a moment's inattention would be fatal. The viper was the first to get tired of gazing, and it began to run away. Just then the hedgehog rushed for the viper's tail, and, having nimbly fastened its teeth, it rolled itself up. The hedgehog was very careful, however, not to cut the tail off. The viper surled back, and delivered furious assaults on its aggressor, wrestling and rolling with the curled-up hedgehog all over the place. At length the snake, wounded by a dozen places, died. The hedgehog began its repast on the tail of its victim, and was careful not to eat the head—London Daily News.

China Again Appeals to Uncle Sam.

China, through two of its viceroys, has appealed to the United States, through Secretary Hay, to intervene in the dispute between the Boxer indemnity and the foreign powers. ## Reorganized.

It is reported from New York that a plan is under way for a radical readjustment of the affairs of the Consolidated Empire of Quinsigamond Mining Company, in which Alfred H. Head, Seaborn Dohm and Minister Hunter are reported to be interested. The capital stock is $5,000,000 of which about $1,000,000 was sold for cash and the remainder given to the vendors of the property. It is said that this selling price was far beyond the property's value and that the vendors will be called upon to surrender three-fourths. The cash holders of stock will not be affected, it is reported, and the capital stock will thus be reduced to $2,000,000.
